GREETINGS

Greetings are typically exchanged between members of the same sex. Pakistanis don't rush greetings and they will take the time inquire about a person's general well-being, family, and how business is doing.

NEIGHBORS

Pakistan is bordered by Afghanistan on the north and west. Iran makes up its southwest boarder. In the east, it's bordered by India, while on the south is the Arabian Sea. China makes up part of its northeast border while Kashmir makes up the rest.

HOW MANY LANGUAGES DO YOU SPEAK?

Urdu is the national language of Pakistan. While only a minority of Pakistanis speak Urdu as their first language, many speak it as their second language. Other popular languages in Pakistan include Punjabi, Pashto, Sindhi, and Saraiki.

Greet someone in Urdu - Use the phrase "As-Salam-u-Alaikum", which means "Peace be unto you". This phrase is pronounced "us-saa-laam-muu-alie-kum."

LET'S PLAY!

Oonch Neech (Up and Down) is a popular children's game. The game requires at least 3 players and requires items to climb on (for example, trees, chairs, or steps).

Oonch Neech is based on the traditional tag game with one important difference. Instead of having one "base" where a player is safe from being tagged, "base" is anything you can climb on. For example, if a player climbs into a tree, on top of a chair, or onto the porch steps, they are safe from being tagged!
